Elmer's is Pouring Concrete Like a Boss

With nine concrete plants across the state of Michigan, you can imagine how much concrete Team Elmer's pours a day. Hint: It's a lot. Check out these three exciting projects we've done south of our TC home.

In Oscoda, we delivered concrete for a new floor of a heated storage unit for Jerry's Marine. Fun fact about this 200-slip marina: 70 years ago, Jerry's Marine was founded as a fishing resort because of this popular perch fishing spot on Lake Huron.

In Onkama, Portage Point Inn called our Manistee plant to provide concrete for a few new projects, including an infinity-edge pool, a hot tub, and decks. Portage Point Inn is one of the oldest operating inns in Michigan, established in 1903. The Inn is a historical landmark and a big part of the Onkama community. We're excited to be part of their restoration project!

In Paris, three mixers from our White Cloud plant delivered 27 yards of Elmer's concrete (that's roughly 5,427 gallons) to Meceola Central Dispatch. The concrete was for the base of a new 100-foot radio tower. It's not quite as tall as the Eiffel Tower, but it will provide a much wider range for 911 dispatchers.
